Applicant's election without traverse of the species of figs. 1-6 in the reply filed on 11/2/05 is acknowledged.

Claims 9-12, 20, 22 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 11/2/05. It should be noted that claim 22 does not read on the elected species.

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: it appears that "6,536,606" (page 2) should be --6,536,696--. Appropriate correction is required.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) or (e) as being clearly anticipated by Fiutak et al (US-6536696).

Claims 1, 3, 5, 13, 18, 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) or (e) as being anticipated by Zevin et al (US-6503008). Note the tapered surface of element 78 which can be rotated to face in the opposite direction out of engagement with the roll when the flat surface 53 faces the roll. The spring is inherent in the plastic structure of the arms 34 and 44.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 14 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Zevin et al (US-6503008) in view of Stewart (US-1778282).

Stewart discloses another roll holder in which portions of a sphere 17 are used to engage the roll core. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to alternatively provide the elements 78 of Zevin et al with portions of a sphere as taught by Stewart to smoothly engage the roll core and prevent damage to the lateral ends of the roll.

Claims 6-8 and 15-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The prior art of record does not show or render obvious an apparatus as recited in claims 6 and 15.
